Hoffman Estates Museum showcases Park District

The Hoffman Estates Museum will present a special fall program on Sunday, Sept. 16, honoring the history of the Hoffman Estates Park District.

This year, the Park District is one of four gold medal finalists eligible for the American Academy for Park and Recreation Administration (AAPRA) and National Recreation and Park Association (NRPA) award. The Park District has 63 parks, an 18-hole championship golf course, an aquatic park, two community centers and a state of the art ice arena and fitness center.

The museum will feature a special Hoffman Estates Park District display showcasing the past 40 years of history. The afternoon will be highlighted by a living history panel, including guest speakers Executive Director Dean Bostram, Park Commissioner Lollie Guiney, and past Park Commissioner Ed Frank, who will tell their stories and share information about their role with the Park District.

The museum program will begin at 1:30 p.m. with a tour of the displays; the panel will speak at 2 p.m. followed by questions from the audience. The afternoon will culminate with a celebration of the Village's 48th birthday with birthday cake and punch.
